

World Book Day 2021 Friday 5th March

Although World Book Day is going to look very different this year we have lots of activities that students can take part in whether they are at home or in school.

Share a Story

On the school website you will find links to stories that classes have recorded and activities relating to the story.
(Available from Mon 1st)

Virtual Character Catwalk Competition

Many of us enjoy dressing up as our favourite book characters on World Book Day. We invite you to send in photos of your child dressed up in their costume for our Virtual Catwalk. Students in school may come dressed in their costume.

Bake a story Competition

Time to put on an apron and get baking!
It doesn't have to be anything elaborate, cupcakes, biscuits or even bought buns that students have decorated themselves. They could decorate them as their favourite book character or a scene from the story. Don't forget to send us a photo of the finished creation before you eat it!

Design a character competition

We know how creative many of our students are. We would like to see them create their own story characters and then to tell us a bit about them. This can be done in whichever way students wish e.g. Drawing, painting, built with Lego or made from recycling materials.

We would love to hear all about the character and what they are like when you email the photos,

World Book Day Website

Do check out the WBD website for Share a story live events, competitions and many more activities.

We hope students will enjoy taking part in the activities we have put together for our World Book Day. But most importantly, have fun and enjoy spending time reading or sharing a story or two.
